Practice

William Baker has practised at the criminal bar for 18 years.

The Chambers & Partners Client Guide to the UK Legal Profession has recommended him as a leader in his field since 2003, with the 2009 edition stating that he is "a very hard working and dedicated performer who prosecutes and defends serious crime cases including murder, rape, fraud and the importation and supply of drugs."

The Legal 500 recommends him for high value fraud.

He specializes in serious and complex crime.

He is a Grade 4 prosecutor for the Crown Prosecution Service.

He regularly leads multi-disciplinary teams of counsel, lawyers, caseworkers, police officers, scientific experts, accountants and medical experts as a leading junior prosecuting large police operations with many defendants (see significant cases below). He enjoys the complexity involved in such cases and the opportunity to build a positive team spirit over the months and years that such cases take.

He represented the junior bar and the Northern Circuit on the Bar Council's Carter Response Group, One Case one Fee Group, Best Value Tendering committee, and presently on the Remuneration Committee consulting and responding to the changes in funding and practice being proposed by the government.

He is involved in training and lecturing police officers on the criminal law, procedure and practice. For the past 10 years he has lectured on the Greater Manchester Police National Fraud Course on the presentation of fraud in the Crown Court. He lectures on witness anonymity issues, abuse of process, confiscation, RIPA, the CPIA and the covert obtaining of evidence.

He has recovered assets of over £2 million prosecuting confiscation hearings arising from drug, fraud and theft cases working with the Financial Investigation Unit and CPS Headquarters (see significant cases).

As a pupil supervisor he has trained a criminal advocate in advocacy, court etiquette, drafting documents for court and ethics.

He is computer literate preferring to communicate where possible by e-mail.
